

THE FORWARD EDGE OF FREEDOM

February 15, 2010

LET IT SNOW! LET IT SNOW! LET IT SNOW! The children have been praying for some snow of their own to play in and look what God sent just for them! It started Friday night and come Saturday morning, they had the perfect packing snow to make snowmen and have a snowball fight. There were a lot of grown men in church Sunday morning complaining about their sore shoulders...as Pastor Foster put it: "Who would think throwing 1,100 snowballs could cause that?" Needless to say, there were as many adults out playing as children.

Everywhere we went, we saw multiple snowmen in all the yards. P.S. How about that Global Warming? 😊

The Lord gave us the privilege of having Bro. Bill and Dot Bradley in our home for a few days. They had several meetings in our area, and we were more than happy to spend some time with them and enjoy the Christian fellowship. It's such a blessing to see a couple who have willingly spent their lives telling people about Jesus and reaching out to those in need; and their love for the military has never waxed cold. It was wonderful to be able to plague them with questions and listen to their Godly advice and wisdom on a variety of subjects. Bro. Bradley has written some excellent books on Christian topics that are generally ignored or misunderstood, and he was in the process of writing another book while staying in our home.

SPECIAL REQUEST: We would like to ask each and every one of you to pray for Cpl Titopace. He has a wife of two years and is in Duke University Medical Center with Lymphoma. Please pray for his healing and for his salvation. His wife is also a Cpl in the Marine Corps and is there with him in Durham, NC. It's a bit of a drive, but I strongly desire the opportunity to witness to this young couple and be a blessing to them. The CO, SgtMjr, and I went up last week to establish communication and let them know we are here for them in whatever capacity we might be of assistance.

BLESSING: A young Cpl came to one of the Bible studies that one of my lay leaders was heading up. During the course of the study, he stated that he wasn't sure he was saved and desired to know Christ as his Saviour. The lay leader informed me of this the next day. So I was able to print off our discipleship course and give the newly saved Marine a brand new King James Bible. Please pray for his spiritual growth.

ANOTHER BLESSING: A concerned father called me asking if I would visit his son, a young Private serving time in the brig. During our meeting, he accepted Christ as his Saviour. The brig holds regular Bible studies; and the very next Bible study, the Marine made his profession of faith public. Please pray for this young man's growth and that the Lord will use him in spite of his situation.
